

The semi-annual statements of our two banks, which appear in this issue, show a very healthy condition and reflect the standing of this community to the outside world. They show that these institutions have been very successful during the past month in spite of the hard times. Mr. Beard, cashier of the Bank of Hardinsburg, says the business of his bank for the past six months has been the best in its history. Mr. Skillman, cashier of the Breckenridge Bank, is very well pleased with his bank's movements over the last six months, he said, is in fine shape for future business. "We have plenty of money which we will be glad to place as soon as an opportunity presents itself. We look for a good demand and a better business during the next six months as every thing points that way." So far as the business of the bank concerned, he said, was never in better shape. No better proof could be given than the statements of our banks. "They have plenty of money; it belongs to the people of the country. It is being handled well; it is a good, safe fund and the people get their dividends and they are happy. So there is a good demand for money and a better business than it takes to build up and make a prosperous community. Banks are just as necessary to the business world as are stores, railroads, post-offices or express offices and when they are conducted on solid, conservative lines like ours it is a fortunate thing for the community. We congratulate the banks and the people and hope that the coming six months of '67 have in store greater prosperity for all."

Mr. R. M. JOLLY, of Irvington, is being importuned to make the race for State Senator on the Republican ticket. He has not yet announced his intention, but it is thought he will enter the race if he can get a sufficient number of first-class men and a good citizen. He is a successful business man, stands well with his party, is popular at home and throughout the country. The news don't like his politics, but if it's to be a Republican we would have to have B. Jolly turn any man yet spoken of.

There is a good deal of power in the little town of Morehead. Six heavy and first-class politicians and they keep things pretty lively. The business hasn't fairly opened up there yet, but it got a good start the first, several of the candidates being in town. Both Democrats and Republicans are claiming majorities there next fall. The Democrats claim 25 majority and Republicans they will carry it anywhere from 10 to 20.

The farmers over in Thorobin will surely have no kick coming this harvest time. With a forty bushel yield and ten cents more in price is some better than last year any way. Providence and not McKinley is smiling on the farm of this good year of 1867.

RеспUBLICAN leaders say that the tariff question will be settled now in about three weeks and then business will move. We are all waiting very patiently for that time to come and if the tariff brings the promised good times we'll say amen to it.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "The farmers of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio will receive $500,000 more for their wheat this year than in 1866. Who says, 'God knows need it'?"

The people of this town have been wedged political, the town up base hill. Even Mr. Miller, their representative, of whom all couldn't get a hearing on his little talk of woes.

THE Republicans of this Senatorial District have called a convention to meet in this city sometime this month. We do not know the date.

The Silverton is big convection in the state of Ohio last week and it all reports are true will turn everything over for the ticket this fall.

It is said that Missouri is well adapted to the sugar beet industry. Why not try to plant in Kentucky or in Breckenridge county.

LEVEL-headed business men all over the country all feel and see that business is improving.

An Interesting Service.

The ordination and installation service held at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening was a success. Although the night was exceedingly hot a large audience greeted the church. Dr. G. W. Snyder, pastor, performed a very fine sermon, after which the questions of ordination were put to the candidates by Rev. J. H. Collier, D. D. A call having been presented by the congregation to the pastor, he accepted and was accepted by him. The Commission then proceeded to install him as pastor of the church. Rev. E. L. Warren, D. D. in a full wall of words, in a language that would have a big crop, it is well known, if improvements they have made in this place. There is enough land in it for four good farms.

Mr. A. Sanders, who lives a few miles back of Ballytown, was brought over a day last week and adjured a lunatic. Mrs. Sanders' condition was a very sad one. She was completely broken down and had lost all in a wild strain all the time. She had six little children at her home to be cared for by her friends. Her two sisters came to the court house with her and their parting was an extremely sad one.

The directors of the Breckenridge Normal College met at the bank building Monday afternoon to elect a principal of the college for the ensuing year. Prof. Morris Enkrich, President, Dr. A. M. Kiesbier and V. G. Babbage. The application of Prof.

ROLAND FOX, Miss. (Sharkey County)
My 2nd Editor of the News and friends of Breckinridge county: Some of my friends may be surprised to see a letter

on the News from us from this place.

On June 15, I took my leave from my home at Webster, bid farewell to those who were dear to me and started for my place by way of Louisville and Nashville.

If the reader will bear with me I will tell you my journey, and some of its beauties, in the course of the 15th with friends in Louisville,

at 1:15 a.m., the (10th) took the train for Nashville to visit the centennial in Lexington, Kentucky, Ballot, Harris, Hart, and other southern counties, saw some very pretty country and people, as that part of the country is, perhaps, the prettiest

I will pass on. After crossing the Tennessee I headed for the first time

(the chief crop of the South)

rowing, broad bean field of waving stems. Then passed on into the beautiful hill country North of Nashville. Oh how there is no rice in the ground;

road flat across as far as the eye can see. But I must go back to Nashville, I arrived at Nashville at 5:30 p.m. and at once to the exposition grounds and buildings of Vanderbilt's University, the greatest of all the buildings in the city. Then passing on in viewing the wonders of what is known as anality Fair, something similar to the

Wiley Plaza, at Chicago in 93; it contains such shows as Moorish Palace,

the Rialto, Edison's Mirage, Streets

Calio, Old Vienna, Chinese and other scenes, and a grand show of animals, a grand animal show, Animal, Show, General, The Shutes, Battle of Gettysburg,

and many other shows of interest.

Spending several hours in Vanity air I went down to the Lagoon, to the grotto and witnessed the fine works

which were very good.

The following day I visited the Meeting house of the M. E. Church which is an enormous building a place of much interest. From here I went to the State House of Tennessee, then to the

and waiting time of my stay in Nashville

was the time of the State of foreign exhibits. The Government display was a repetition of the display at Chicago only on a much scale, but was very poor.

The 17th was Virginia day, at the

and the Governor and his staff and about 1000 militia were present. It was also the day of the Knoxville people

there in force.

I heard Fischer grand Orchestra at the opera and when they took up the stage one would know without being told that he was in Dixie Land.

The Kentucky day was very small but the Mississippian (Kansan) while the Mississippian, from Hopkinsville, came in, and one of them began to say "My Old Kentucky Home" this took me back to my native home and made one, made me realize that I was leaving my Kentucky home perhaps for ever. I spent only three days in Memphis but looked for the first time on the Father of Waters, the burial place of DeSoto, the great Mississippi river. It's very low now, and one could scarcely think that this was the road, rolling, destructive river of three hundred miles.

There is more mud than water, but the water has taste to it.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1897.

Uncle Johnathan.

Gives The Louisville Dispatch a Few Pointers in the

LINE OF POLITICAL ECONOMY.

A Few Remedies For Our National Disease the Centralization of Wealth.

The new silver reform Democratic Party, the most powerful, and in the most popular, is the "The rapid and phenomenal concentration of wealth in the hands of the law with the corresponding spread of poverty and distress among the masses in this country is a matter which causes serious apprehensions among the thoughtful and patriotic, and is seen in its greatest degree in our institutions."

The Dispatch goes on to quote from the New York Herald a long list of estates whose great value is given as an illustration of the tendency of the times. This is the way that paper places some real estate holdings in the city of New York. "W. C. C. & Co., per annum, $1,500,000; J. A. Gould, per annum, $700,000; and O. Goetz, per annum, $300,000; A. H. Eno, $50,000,000."

The Dispatch gives twenty real estate holdings whose aggregate value amounts to $350,000,000.

The Dispatch does very well in stating the disease, but it does not point out the remedy. The true reformer will not rest at conditions, and stop there. The true reformer will diagnose the disease, point out the causes of the disease and state the remedy. The best physicians strike at the disease; they are not satisfied to apply mere palliatives.

The Dispatch gives some figures that their parallel in the holdings of personal property. The rage for accumulation has become a form of insanity which stops at nothing. Legislative bodies, courts and juries are looked upon as legitimate articles of merchandise and personal property, and, especially, the public treasury, the money of the people, is held up to ridicule and contempt."

This is pretty strong language, but the facts justify it. Now does the Dispatch suppose the "rage for accumulation" will die out of itself? Will those millionaires, who are engaged in the business of accumulation, really let go of their great wealth voluntarily? The Dispatch does not say that if the volume of "redemption money" were doubled, as would be the case under free coinage, or stop, or even appreciably lessen, so long as the cause of this "concentration of wealth in few hands" is not removed by operation?" The cheerless man cannot answer, but the Dispatch probably has an answer, no.

The Dispatch vainly imagines and its party vainly imagines it has a remedy. It thinks and its party thinks that the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 1 to 1 gold, or 2 per cent, income tax on the first $10,000,000 of personal property is what they propose as a remedy. But last fall we were told by the silver orators that if the volume of "redemption money" were doubled, as would be the case under free coinage, or stop, or even appreciably lessen, so long as the cause of this "concentration of wealth in few hands" is not removed by operation?"

The cheerless man cannot answer, but the Dispatch probably has an answer, no.

The Dispatch proposes to be greatly surprised and that the thoughtful and patriotic people are greatly alarmed at such immense fortunes as those enumerated above, being lodged in the hands of individuals. Yet it advocates as a remedy a policy which its own party declares would be the size of those fortunes! Sees to me that that would only aggravate the disease.

The other remedy they propose is right in principle, but it is entirely inadequate—take a private individual whose income is $10,000,000 a year. The 2 per cent, income tax would leave that individual with a very large income of $9,800,000. This remedy would have as much effect in remanding the evils complained of by the Dispatch as the small boy would have in trying to empty the ocean with a tin cup.

I submit in all sober seriousness that not a remedy, in the language of the editor of the News, "is a delusion and a snare."

Effects cannot be removed without removing the cause of those effects.

The concentration of the nation's wealth in the hands of the few, dangerous as it is to the peace and welfare and stability of the Republic and to the welfare of the poor, the very root of the evils spread this poverty and distress resulting from it, this concentration of wealth must go on with increasing momentum from year to year until a REAL REMEDY SHALL BE FOUND AND APPLIED.

The only way to stop the accumulation of these gigantic estates in the hands of a few individuals is to absolutely cut off the sources of these enormous incomes. Strike at the root of the trouble or confess inability to apply a remedy.

Let us examine for a moment some of the large incomes of the millionaires of this country. Some aristocrats, W. W. Astor, per annum, $8,000,000; J. D. Rockefeler, per annum, $6,000,000; J. Gould Estate, per annum, $1,000,000; Russell Sage, per annum, $4,000,000; C. Vanderbilt, per annum, $4,000,000; W. K. Vanderbilt, per annum, $3,700,000; and so on for an examination of the steady and rapid concentration of wealth in these United States?

Think of a monthly income of $741,600 and a daily income of $20,000.

If all the real estate in Mead and Breckenridge counties and all the personal property in the same were held for taxation at its cash valuation, the world would not equal the annual value of one of a few millionaires country.

CONDUCT OF RURAL SCHOOLS.

Interesting Report to Be Submitted By the Commission of Twelve.

Recommendations as to Organization, Maintenance, Teachers, Instruction and Discipline.

One Result of the Last Meeting of the National Educational Association.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The report of the commission of twelve on rural schools in the United States, appointed at the convention of the National Educational Association in July, 1896, has been completed and will be submitted at the next annual gathering. It is the result of the most careful work on school education that has appeared since the promulgation of the report of the commission of ten a year ago.

The commission consisted of Henry Babb of Iowa, D. I. Kiehl of Minnesota, Bousfield of New Hampshire, N. G. Phillips of Alabama, R. A. Hinckle of Michigan, S. L. Black of California, W. S. Stanton of Texas, E. W. Wolf of Missouri, United States Commissioner of Education Harris, L. E. Evans of Georgia, and C. R. Klinner of New York. The report discusses the rural school problem in the light of the growth of school attendance, supervision, supply of teachers and instruction and discipline. Each of these subjects was in charge of a subcommittee of three, their work being reviewed by the entire committee. The report states that for purposes of organization, maintenance and discipline nothing should be recognized as the unit smaller than the township or the county. The school district is the most undesirable unit possible. Effecting this change wherever the district system prevails would conduct to effectiveness and simplification of school government, supervision of teachers and a system of supervision which would produce better results. All the subcommittees favor the consolidation of schools which are too small to employ qualified teachers, and the constitution of larger schools, when practicable, in order that better instruction may be provided than is now possible.

Well, and not only through extensions of education; that the intellectual and moral development of the race must not be regarded as the only end of life, the teaching of his own race兄弟的教育 is a means and means for race elevation. The conclusion reached is that the neglect of race identity renders impossible the realization of an ideal relation between the white teacher and the negro pupil.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Cöle, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.

2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhea.

3. Because it is a truly remedy that will chronic diarrhea.

4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.

5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.

6. Because it is the only remedy that can be depended upon in case of cholera infantum.

7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.

8. Because it produces no bad results.

9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.

10. Because it has saved the lives of many people than any other medicine in the world.

$100 Reward!

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure, and that is Catherill's Cure.

Catherill's Cure is the one positive cause known to the medical profession.

Catherill being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Catherill Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and the patient is soon well.

It is the same with all diseases that affect the body, and the Catherill Cure is the best.

A certain definite sum should be appropriated to each school out of state funds, and the amount should be in proportion to the association with some fixed and established rules, a discrimination being made in favor of the townships most willing to tax for the schools.
